

At minimal cost to you, you can operate your own home-based business, set your own hours, be with your own children, and care for other children — with USAF Family Child Care. Already in place in more than 3,000 homes on 80 installations worldwide, the FCC staff will train and help you provide responsible, safe, in-home care for children ages 2 weeks to 14 years (including your own children) in your own government home or affiliated off-base home.

You will be fully trained to operate your own business.

Far from a simple baby-sitting service, the FCC program is looking for individuals who wish to be child care professionals. You must be over 18 years of age, and be able to read and speak English, in good mental and physical health, and be willing to undergo a comprehensive background check.

After you complete a basic orientation program, you can set your own hours and begin to care for children on an hourly, part-day, full day, or extended basis. As additional benefits, you'll receive 60 hours of Air Force standardized training, annual refresher training and be eligible for low cost insurance options.
